ICRI 2016

Cape Town – South Africa,

3-5 October 2016

The next International Conference on Research Infrastructures will take place in Cape Town, South Africa, from 3 to 5 October 2016, hosted by the South African Department of Science and Technology (DST) in collaboration with the European Commission.

It will be the 3rd Conference on Research Infrastructures and the event will have an international dimension. The conference aims at:

- highlighting the essential role of global research infrastructures in addressing grand challenges and as hubs for innovation;
- reflecting on needs, development and sustainability of global/regional research infrastructures;
- discussing the possibility to move towards an international roadmap.

Several hundreds of participants from more than 50 countries are expected to take part to this event. Speakers representing high-level stakeholders from across the globe, as well as highly profiled key political Institutions, including the UN, European Commission, African Union, OECD and others, will intervene in the debate.

Additional information will be made available as the preparations for ICRI2016 progress.
